Snow Days all the Way

By: Peter Touma

This year we all can agree that, so far, winter has been really white. It seems like snow is here to stay and that may be true for this whole season. Due to all snow we, the students, have enjoyed an addition to our winter break.

The students came back to school on Tuesday, January 5th then the snow began to fall, and the following three days we were given as an additional bonus break for the students and staff. The result was highly appreciated among most of the student body. "It was good because you got out of school, but it was also bad because you're stranded at home with nothing to do," said Jamie Agena.

The snow days had two disadvantages such as the trouble getting around and seeing friends, which bugged some students. "I was on the borderline to euphoria, because I could watch TV all day," said Trevor Dolbow.

However, people were getting sick of the snow that was piling up on the streets. "I'm sick of winter, I want it to be summer, because my birthday is in July," said Courtney Murphy.

Well one thing Courtney can do is celebrate "Hoodie Hoo Day" February 20th which is a holiday where you chase out winter in order to welcome spring. So let's welcome Hoodie Hoo Day everyone.

Jamie Agena and Willow Hunt take a bite of the newly fallen snow.

MUDECAS Boys Basketball

Both the girls and the boys' basketball team had high expectations to do well in MUDECAS this year. With the boys the number two seed, it looked good for the Jets.

The Jets would face their rivals the Pawnee City Indians, whom they had beaten a couple of weeks before by nine points. Now the Indians were out for revenge. The game didn't start in favor of Sterling. "We didn't come out ready to play," said head Coach Jimmy Motz. The Indians took the lead early in the game. However, after halftime the Jets made a run for it, but it didn't last. "We came back into the game, but it was too late," offered Coach Motz.

The game ended with a score of 45-39 to the Indians. The Jets were disappointed after the loss, but came back to play Exeter-Milligan in the consolation bracket. "The second game we played a lot better, we played more like the old Sterling team," said Coach Motz after Sterling's 53-29 win. "Now we just have to keep getting better and go back to the basics." The future looks bright for the Jets who now hunger for the taste of victory.

Aquarius (January 20-February 18)

This month you should really focus on your love life. Things may not be going so well with you and your partner so try to work things out or you could lose him/her for good. Call him/her and tell express how you're feeling because he/she can't read your mind. And, if things are going great try to do something to keep that good energy flowing. Lucky days: 7, 14, 23, and 25.

Night at the Movies

Even if there aren't many famous actors, everybody talked about 'Avatar' long before it was released. The expectations were high, but the actual movie was even better, especially because of the possibility to watch it in 3D.

In the movie Jake Sully is invited to travel to the planet 'Pandora' for a scientific project, because his brother who was supposed to go there died. Since humans can't survive there, a special program is created in which the DNA of a human is mixed with the DNA of the Na'vi, the people who live on Pandora. The result of that is Avatars, beings that can be controlled by the human brain.

During Jake's investigation he meets Neytiri, a young and pretty Na'vi woman and the two of them fall in love.

But the longer Jake stays on the Pandora, the more he has to fight between the humans, who want to destroy the Na'vi's home and the Na'vi, who accepted him as one of their own.

All in all Avatar which is written by James Cameron, the same person who wrote 'Titanic' is a movie for the whole family everybody should see. I recommend that you see it in 3-D if you can

To find out who triumphs you have to watch the movie yourself.

Jr. High News

Quiz bowl began for some junior high students in 7th and 8th grade. This year's team only sees one returning member; Sara Scamehorn, who returns because, "It's fun and you get to learn more about a lot of different subjects." Quiz bowl is an academic competition for students from many different schools. This year's team will compete in three to four meet depending the schedule. Ben Logston's favorite part of being out for quiz bowl is when he gets a question right, "Because it makes me feel smart!" Tara Hestermann was honest when she said she loves "Getting out of school to go to compete in all of the meets!" Keep an eye out for these students not only in quiz bowl, but also on the honor roll! Getcha Some Answers

I think my teacher hates me. What should I do?

Your teacher probably doesn't hate you. Ask yourself what you could have done to get him/her to maybe dislike you. Did you play a prank on him/her? Do you constantly turn in late work? Maybe you interrupt class. Even if you have done any of these your teacher wouldn't hate you. If you are doing something wrong figure it out and fix it. Most teachers enjoy children. This is often the reason they chose to go into education, so you probably have nothing to worry about. A lot of times teachers get frustrated and it seems to come off as anger. Teachers have too much going on in the day to take time out to hate students.
